

ATTENTION STATE EMPLOYEES!!

The Interagency Committee of State Employed Women invites you to the Three Rivers Convention Center in Kennewick May 8 – 10 for a professional training conference titled, “Today’s Women, Today’s Leaders.”

Attendees can choose workshops in one of the following tracks: Communication, Health and Wellness, and Professional Development. Six workshops will be offered during each of the sessions. There is NO limit to the number of participants an agency can send – our goal is to have each agency and county represented at the conference!

ICSEW will also host a health screening expo to celebrate “Women’s Health and Wellness Week”, conduct a silent auction with proceeds benefiting the Columbia Basin Community College Resource Center and unveil a new ICSEW logo!

Attendees will learn new skills or information in at least one of the following areas:

- ✓ Networking
- ✓ Conflict Resolution
- ✓ Customer Service
- ✓ Communication Skills
- ✓ Team Building
- ✓ Health and Wellness
- ✓ Leadership

Plenary Group Speakers!

Supreme Court Justice
Bobbe Bridge

Helen Thayer – First
Woman to solo the North Pole

Dorothy Wilhelm – TV
personality and Tacoma
News Tribune columnist

Sunny Kobe Cook – Founder of Sleep Country USA

Registration Fee

$270 for early registration - Jan 19th – March 15th, 2006

$290 for late registration March 16th – April 30th, 2006

Registration fees include all meals while at the conference.

A list of hotels offering the per diem rate for conference attendees can be found on the website.

Please visit <http://icsew.wa.gov> for more information!

As with all of our events, the conference will be fragrance-free.